To Whom It May Concern:

I was outside during the time period at Lockhart State Park. I arrived there at 6:40 and I thought I saw the road crew in the parking lot in a green low truck. They were surprise to see me and I noticed them because no one is there at that time of morning. At 7:20 am there was a lot of loud talking and screaming. I usual sit at the Pavallion on the top of the park and I could hear because the air was heavy. I came down at 7:30 and saw nothing unusual in the park and left the park.

When I arrived at the park, the sky was overcast but visibility was okay. When I left, a low ground fog had set in.

The park has cameras.

I hope this can be some help.
