Inspections for <U-FYNHAY4-05T>

* ATTENTION CONDUCTOR ****

<<<<<<<<<< REQUIRED INSPECTIONS TO BE PERFORMED >>>>>>>>>

After inspection completed, if inspection specified below is a Class 1 or Class 1A, record that inspection information in TRAIN INSPECTION HISTORY section in the spaces provided (also report the inspection made by conductor for Class 1 or 1A via VTR). If inspection was not performed, contact your Dispatcher prior departure for guidance.

Location Inspection Type To Be Performed By

TRAIN INSPECTION HISTORY

Location	Inspection Type	NAME	DATE/TIME	#CARS
MANDAN, ND	Class 1 Air Brake	WAYNE FRENZEL	12/30/13 05:28	106
FRYBURG, ND	Class 1 Air Brake	D IMHOFF (Conductor)	12/29/13 13:31	106

Class 1 air brake test and ETD test information

The originating Class 1 air brake test record is stored in the electronic records of Class 1 inspections on TRAIN INSPECTION HISTORY.

The intermediate Class 1A air brake test record is stored in the electronic records of Class 1A inspections on TRAIN INSPECTION HISTORY.

All Air Slips are stored electronically; contact the Mechanical Desk if a copy is requested by the FRA.

Coal trains are considered 'Cycle Trains' and may be operated up to 3,000 miles before an additional Class 1 Inspection is required. This does not exclude the requirement for intermediate inspections and tests (Class 1A). Crews will be notified when cycle train inspections are required (other than when adding cars en route).

Note: ETD test information provided only if performed by other than a member of the crew. The number of cars indicated in the TRAIN INSPECTION HISTORY are not required to correspond to the number of cars currently in your train due to setouts and pickups en route or due to the 'car count' method for multi-platform equipment used by the inspector.

Extended Haul trains operate under extended haul inspection FRA-2006-24812 waiver.

RULE OF THE WEEK: December 29 TO December 31, 2013

Question: When releasing a hand brake, what is required if the hand brake is difficult to release?

Answer: The answer is located in ABTH 102.2 Releasing Hand Brakes, which says:
Before moving cars or locomotives, fully release all hand brakes to prevent wheel damage.

If a hand brake is difficult to release, charge the air brake system and make a full service application of the car or locomotive brakes before attempting to release the hand brake again. If hand brake is still difficult to release place the car or locomotive brake system into emergency.

If the hand brake cannot be released using the above method do not move the car except to set it out. Car must be watched during entire movement to set out and limit speed to 5 MPH if wheels are not turning freely. Report defect to Mechanical Desk/Dispatcher.

When releasing hand brakes, check at least three additional cars beyond the last applied hand brake to ensure that no other hand brakes are applied.

Important Items to Remember: While different people can have different physical capabilities, no one should use excessive force to release a hand brake. If the hand brake cannot be released by one person using a reasonable amount of effort, the air brakes are to be applied to help release pressure on the brakes, which may enable the hand brake to be released manually. We are each empowered to take the safe course, especially if there is doubt or uncertainty about how to safely accomplish a task.
