

Cathodic Protection Explanation Regarding Cast Iron Pipe In Alagasco's System

In general, in the natural gas industry, conventional cathodic protection methods are not applied to cast iron pipe. It is not an industry practice to cathodically protect cast iron pipe as is required for steel pipe. Therefore, there is no cathodic protection on the cast iron distribution system in Marks Village.