

Photo 2. Oxygen and carbon SIMS maps from first region examined. White indicated higher elemental concentrations. Both oxygen and carbon were observed to be concentrated in the "hardened layer" as well as in the cracks (white arrows). A carbon-rich patch