

A photograph showing a white rectangular paper label with the handwritten text "LF 38" in black ink. The label is secured to a metallic, light-colored surface by two strips of silver duct tape, one on the left and one on the right. The background is a curved metal panel with several small circular holes. On the right side, there is a vertical strip of metal with a series of larger circular holes. The lighting is somewhat uneven, with a brighter area in the center where the label is.
