Subject: CFIT Medallion Star Program

Ms. Walker,

As part of the National Transportation Safety Board's ongoing investigations into three separate aviation accidents here in Alaska, all of which involved controlled flight into terrain (CFIT), our investigative team would like to learn more about the Medallion Foundation's accreditation criteria.

In the course of our investigations, and while reviewing documents pertaining to the Promech Air, Wings of Alaska, and Wright Air Service accidents, it was discovered that all three companies had Medallion Stars for CFIT training.

In an effort to learn more about these programs and how they are incorporated into an Air Carrier's operation, the NTSB would like to review all certification, continued oversight and auditing documents for the above mentioned operators. Furthermore, we would like to interview yourself, Jerry Rock, and anyone who conducted or reviewed the CFIT or risk mitigation pre-audits or audits for these companies.

We would like to propose February 4-5, 2016 for documentation and manual review and February 8-9 for conducting the interviews. Would these dates work with your schedule?

Thank you,

Shaun Williams
