

No part of a report of a marine casualty investigation shall be admissible as evidence in any civil or administrative proceeding, other than an administrative proceeding initiated by the United States. 46 U.S.C. §6308.

Photo dated unknown

Source: Bart Barnum, NTSB

Date: unknown

Source: Unknown

Photo dated April 27, 2019

Source: Erling E. Jacobsen

Photo dated April 27, 2019

Source: Erling E. Jacobsen

Photo dated April 27, 2019

Source: Erling E. Jacobsen

Photo dated April 27, 2019

Source: Erling E. Jacobsen

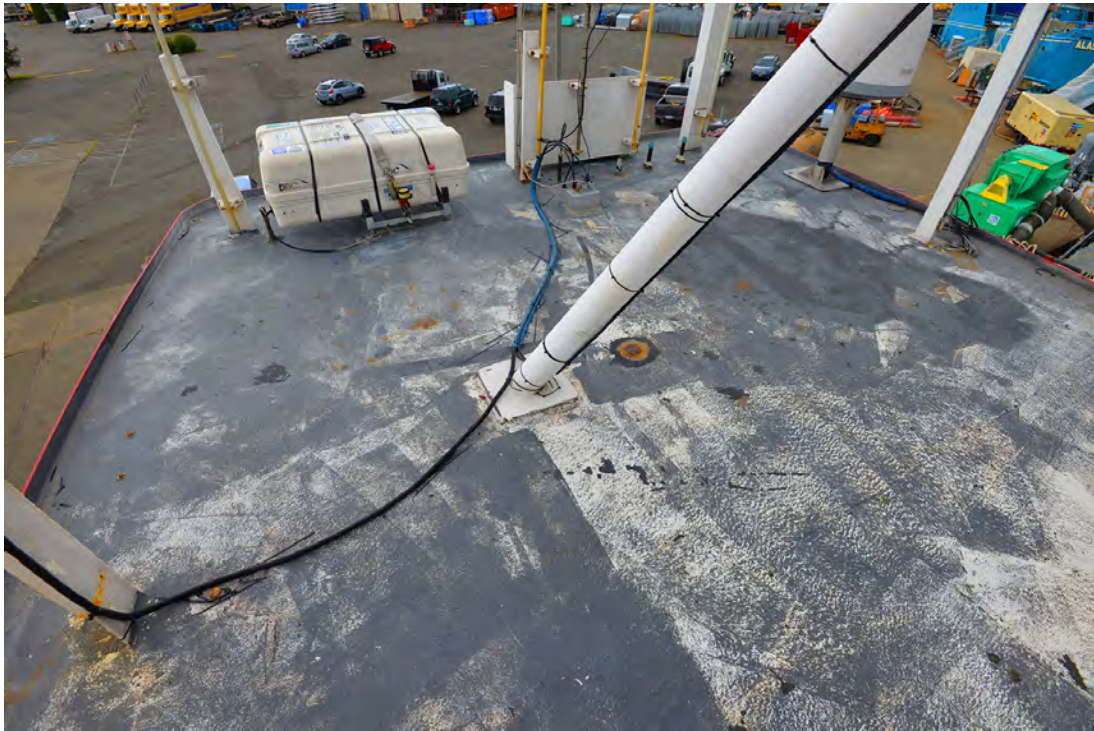

Photo dated April 27, 2019

Source: Erling E. Jacobsen

No part of a report of a marine casualty investigation shall be admissible as evidence in any civil or administrative proceeding, other than an administrative proceeding initiated by the United States. 46 U.S.C. §6308.

Photo dated April 27, 2019

Source: Erling E. Jacobsen

Photo dated April 27, 2019

Source: Erling E. Jacobsen

Photo dated 2019

Source: Condition and Valuation Survey F/V SCANDIES ROSE, pg 13

Photo dated 2019

Source: Condition and Valuation Survey F/V SCANDIES ROSE, pg 13

Photo dated April 27, 2019

Source: Erling E. Jacobsen

Date: unknown

Source: unknown

No part of a report of a marine casualty investigation shall be admissible as evidence in any civil or administrative proceeding, other than an administrative proceeding initiated by the United States. 46 U.S.C. §6308.

Photo dated 2019

Source: Condition and Valuation Survey F/V SCANDIES ROSE, pg 14

Photo dated 2019

Source: Condition and Valuation Survey F/V SCANDIES ROSE, pg 14

Date: Unknown

Source: Unknown

Screencapture of ROV Footage taken by Global Diving & Salvage, Inc., dated February 13, 2020

No part of a report of a marine casualty investigation shall be admissible as evidence in any civil or administrative proceeding, other than an administrative proceeding initiated by the United States. 46 U.S.C. §6308.

Screencapture of ROV Footage taken by Global Diving & Salvage, Inc., dated February 13, 2020

Screencapture of ROV Footage taken by Global Diving & Salvage, Inc., dated February 13, 2020

Photos provided by Dean Gribble

Loading pots on the Scandies Rose

Photos provided by Dean Gribble

Loading pots on the Scandies Rose

Photos provided by Dean Gribble

Loading pots on the Scandies Rose

Photo of Gary Cobban breaking ice, date unknown

Provided by Gerry Cobban Knagin

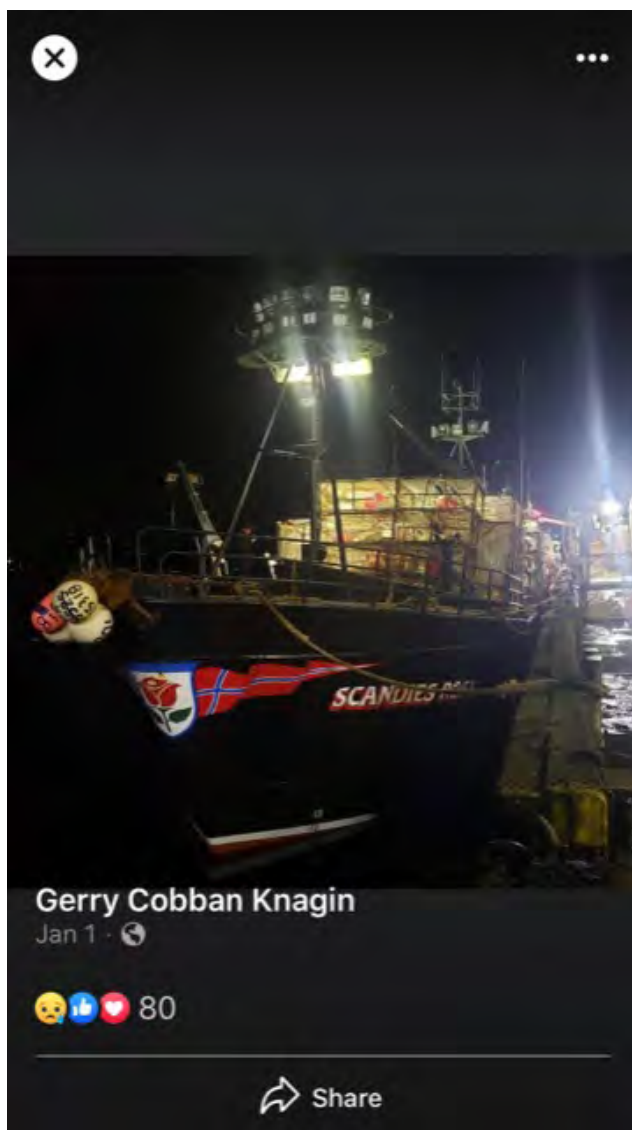

Photo of SCANDIES ROSE bow at pier, date unknown

Provided by Gerry Cobban Knagin

