The image displays a variety of metal fittings, likely made of stainless steel, arranged on a plain white background. The components include:

- Two 90-degree elbow fittings of different sizes.
- A T-junction fitting.
- A small, short straight section.
- A long, thin straight section.
- A small, circular flange or gasket.
- A small, cylindrical component, possibly a cap or plug.
- A larger, more complex fitting with multiple ports or a flange.
