Hi,
I saw the last approach the Grumman made prior to crashing on Wednesday. My house is at the approach end of runway 25 at the Flying Diamond airpark, 6AZ8.
I was working in the yard and thought wow, he is pretty fast and a little high, but thought it was just his last landing as I didn't hear anything, being so far from the departure end of 25. I am a CFII and A320 captain for United and have lived and flown off the airpark for 16 years.
If you have any questions, feel free to contact me. I am at work the next 4 days, so phone off sometimes.

Laurel Peterson
