William F. Carroll, Jr.

My name is William F. Carroll, Jr. and I am an adjunct professor of chemistry at Indiana University. I also have a small industrial chemistry consulting business, Carroll Applied Science LLC. I received a Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry and Physics from DePauw University in Greencastle, IN in 1975, a Master of Science in Organic Chemistry from Tulane University in New Orleans in 1975 and a PhD in Organic Chemistry from Indiana University in 1978.

In 2015 I retired from Occidental Chemical Corporation after a career of 36 years, and consult with them from time to time. However, today I am representing myself. The analysis and opinions you hear are my own. My area of expertise in this context is the chemistry and polymerization chemistry of vinyl chloride.
